7. NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION.

The Kenansville Historic District Boundary Decrease area is located on the north side of South Main Street (Highway NC-24) between Stokes Street on the west and Cooper Street on the east. Ten parcels of land are to be removed from the Kenansville National Register Historic District. Included on the parcels are the circa 1850, Greek Revival style Old Methodist Parsonage (8), a two-story, gable-end structure with a double-story, pedimented front portico; and the circa 1850 Blount House (7), a one-story, hip-roofed dwelling with an attached front porch and two rear wings attached to the north end of the main block. Both houses stood on South Main Street but were moved to the Dr. Needham Whitfield Herring property on Highway NC-24 just northwest of the Kenansville National Register Historic district in 2000 and in 2002 respectively. The old Methodist Parsonage parcel now contains a temporary bank structure. The Blount House site is currently vacant, but a permanent bank building will occupy the site. Four noncontributing structures on South Main Street include Andy's Restaurant at the northwest corner of South Main and Bostic streets, the Texas Tee gas station and adjacent Brown's Building Supply at the northwest corner of South Main and Stokes streets, and a one-story residence located at 616 South Main Street. Three noncontributing one-story residences and garages, located at 119, 123, and 219 Stokes Street, are on the west side of the street between South Main Street and Seminary Road. The Pearsall House (4), at the northwest corner of Seminary Road and Stokes Street, burned in 1986 and only the chimney remains.

Summary

This amendment to the boundaries of the Kenansville Historic District, listed in the National Register of Historic Places in 1975, documents a boundary decrease that removes approximately 11.3 acres, encompassing ten properties, in the southwestern section of the district. The reason for the reduction is that contributing historic properties have been lost by fire or relocation and only noncontributing structures occupy the adjacent sites.

Verbal Boundary Description

The boundaries of the Kenansville Historic District remain the same as those described in the original nomination except for revisions to the southwest that remove ten parcels of land occupied by houses that were moved to other locations or burned, and by noncontributing buildings. The deleted area (drawn at a scale of 1:200), is marked by hatched lines.

Boundary Justification

The amended boundary retains the noncontributing property immediately northeast of the Hinson House (#9) in order to maintain valid boundaries.
